

TOTAL LISTING

10,030

CITIES COVERED

6

AFFORDABLE

4.9%
Of all listings

MID-RANGE

11.9%
Of all listings

LUXURY

41.3%
Of all listings

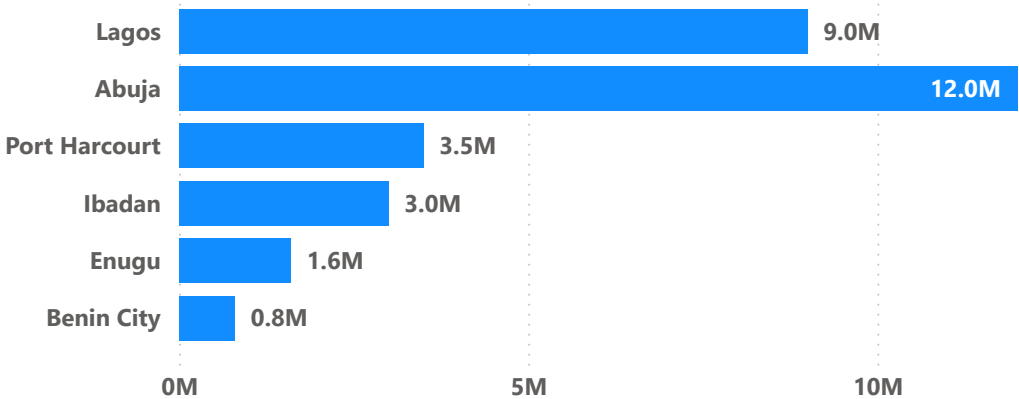

ULTRA-LUXURY

42.0%
Of all listings

Property Categories

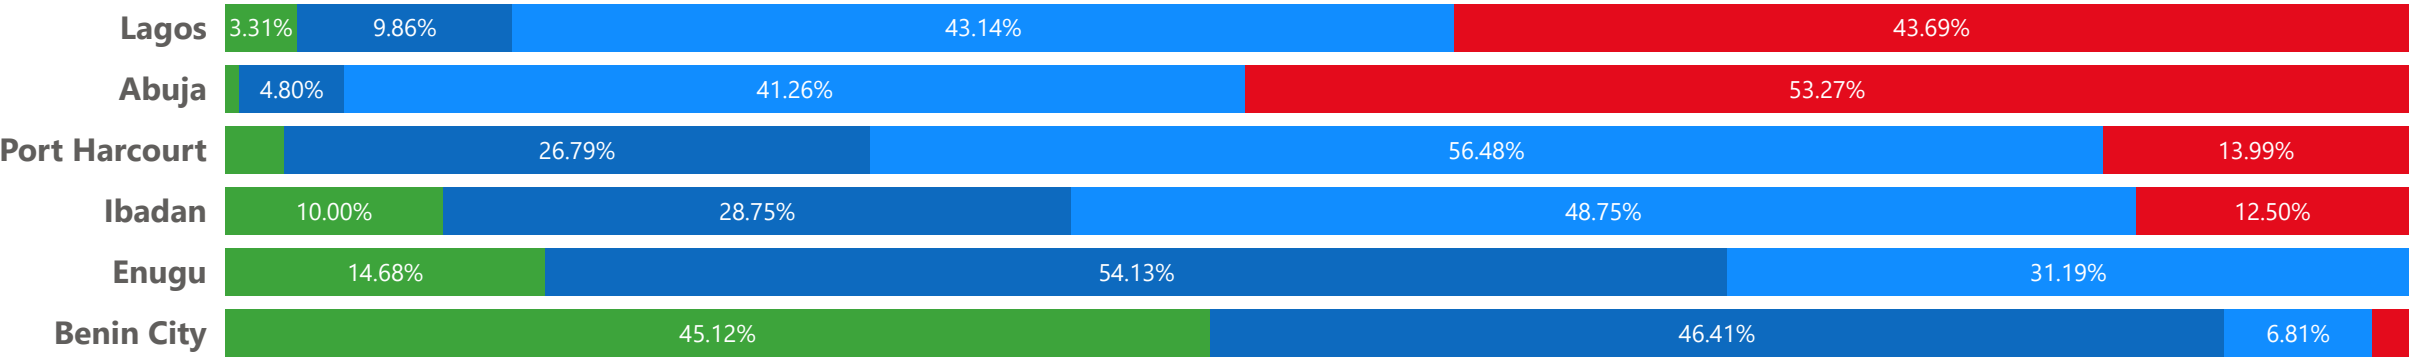

Sort_Order	Category	Annual_Rent
1	Affordable	₦180k – ₦700k
2	Mid-Range	₦750k – ₦2.4M
3	Luxury	₦2.5M – ₦10M
4	Ultra Luxury	₦10.5M – ₦200M

Median of Price (NGN) by City

PROPERTY DISTRIBUTION BY CITIES

● Affordable ● Mid-Range ● Luxury ● Ultra Luxury

Housing market classification

Four tiers based on % of listings in each property category

Tier 1 — Crisis · Lagos & Abuja

87–94.6% of listings are Luxury or Ultra-Luxury. Barely any affordable supply exists.

Lagos: 43.7% ultra-luxury

Abuja: 53.3% ultra-luxury

Affordable: 0.7–3.3%

Tier 2 — Stressed · Port Harcourt & Ibadan

Luxury dominates at 49–57%. Some mid-range exists but ultra-luxury is contained.

Mid-range: 26–29%

Ultra-luxury: 12–14%

Affordable: 2.7–10%

Tier 3 — Functional · Enugu

Mid-range dominates at 54%. Zero ultra-luxury listings. A market that still serves ordinary earners

Mid-range: 54.1%

Ultra-luxury: 0%

Affordable: 14.7%

Tier 4 — Accessible · Benin City

91.5% of listings are Affordable or Mid-Range. The statistical inverse of Lagos and Abuja.

Affordable: 45.1%

Mid-range: 46.4%

Ultra-luxury: 1.7%

97.6% of the Lagos and Abuja rental market is inaccessible to the bottom 80% of earners.

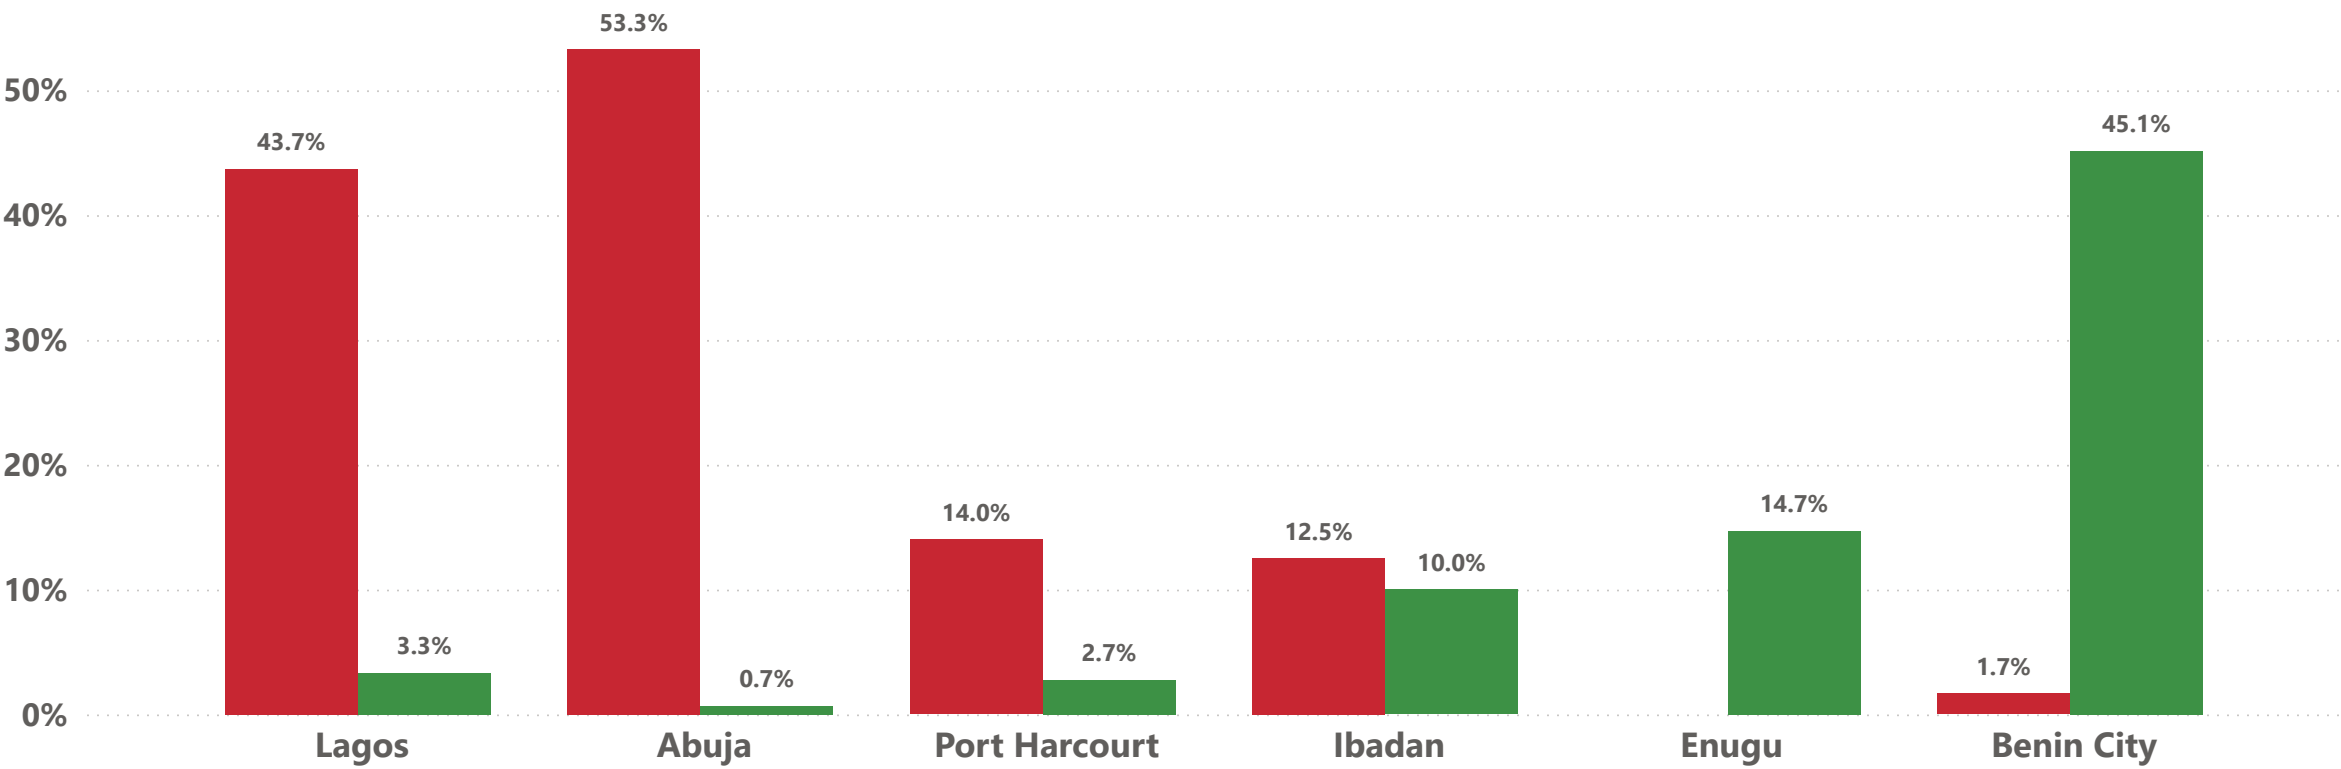

Affordable listings represent only 2.4% of the Lagos and Abuja market combined (8,712 listings). Lagos income data used as benchmark — Nigeria's highest-income city.

What each income group can afford: Applying the 30% housing cost rule to Lagos NLSS income data. Lagos used as benchmark

Bottom 20% Monthly income: up to ₦63,300		Max annual rent ₦227,880
Some affordable listings (2.4% of market)
21st – 40th percentile Monthly income: ₦63,300 – ₦91,700		Max annual rent ₦330,120
Some affordable listings (2.4% of market)
41st – 60th percentile Monthly income: ₦91,700 – ₦135,100		Max annual rent ₦486,360
Some affordable listings (2.4% of market)
61st – 80th percentile Monthly income: ₦135,100 – ₦196,700		Max annual rent ₦708,120
Most affordable listings (2.4% of market)
81st – 95th percentile Monthly income: ₦196,700 – ₦373,000		Max annual rent ₦1,342,800
Low end mid-range (8% of market)
Above 95th percentile Monthly income: above ₦373,000		Max annual rent Above ₦1,342,800
Mid-range and above (97.6% of market)

Affordable vs ultra-luxury by city The further from Nigeria's economic centres, the more accessible the market

● Ultra Luxury ● Affordable

Remove Lagos and Abuja and Nigeria's housing market looks fundamentally different. Ultra-luxury collapses from 42% to 7.7%. Luxury falls from 41.3% to 33.5%. Mid-range more than triples from 11.9% to 37.3%. And affordable housing jumps from 4.9% to 21.6%

Excluding Lagos & Abuja
Category	Category %	% Change
Ultra Luxury	7.7%	-34.30
Luxury	33.5%	-7.82
Affordable	21.6%	16.74
Mid-Range	37.3%	25.38

Before and after — full market comparison Dramatic shift in every category when the two crisis cities are excluded

